In Effort to Arrest a Negro Four Policemen Were Killed and Three Fatally Hurt—Three Negroes Were Then Cremated in House Which Was Destroyed.

Atlanta, Ga., May 17.—In an effort to arrest Will Richardson, a negro desperado in a cabin just outside the city limits this morning four policemen were killed and three persons fatally injured. The dead are:

City Policeman Thomas Grant.
City Policeman Edward Crabtree.
County Policeman Bob Ozborn.
Bailiff Battey.
The fatally injured are:
Owen Heard, an ex-policeman.
E. T. Jackson, a street car conductor.

W. A. Wright, a county policeman. It is believed that the negro was burned and roasted to death. The trouble began yesterday when five negroes attacked Officer S. A. Gerlin and nearly beat him to death. The men took refuge in a house just outside the city limits. Early this morning four officers surrounded the house. As they approached firing commenced and Owen Heard was fatally shot. The city was telephoned for assistance and several officers responded. As soon as help came the house in which the negro sought refuge was burned. Richardson crawled on his hands and knees to an outhouse and as he reached the latter straightened up and fired four times at the officers standing near, and three of them dropped dead. A fourth officer was killed, but the negro was not dislodged. Battey made a venture from cover and was instantly killed.

By this time hundreds of people arrived from the city armed to the teeth, determined to kill or burn the negro.

The woodshed in which Richardson was hiding was fired, one of his companions captured, having been forced to light it.

As the flames leaped up Richardson made a dash for another cabin and although pursued by a perfect hail of bullets, seemed to bear a charmed life. From his third point of vantage he kept up a steady fire apparently having an inexhaustible supply of ammunition. Fully five thousand people were on the scene by this time and the cabin was being torn and shaken by missiles from heavy revolvers, Winchester rifles and shot guns. Even rocks were used in the frenzy of the mob.

With utter fearlessness the mob surrounded the cabin, determined to prevent the escape of the negro and maintaining a terrific fire. It was difficult to approach sufficiently near to fire the cabin, but fire balls were sent whizzing through the air and one finally struck on the roof and in an instant it was ablaze. In the excitement and cheering which followed the crowd became reckless and Richardson took advantage of this to wound two other men.

In the house which was burned today was found the remains of Richardson and two other negroes. The mob fought for charred bits of the remains for souvenirs and finally dispersed. Atlanta has not seen such excitement in years.

Negroes have entrenched themselves in a number of houses which the state militia has been ordered to attack with artillery.

FIRST TROUBLE AT SMITHVILLE

UNION FOREIGNERS DROVE THE NON-UNION WORKMEN

From Plant With Clubs and Stones.
An Italian Badly Hurt—Miners' National Convention.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 17.—The first outbreak of trouble occurred at Smithville near here, last night when 100 union foreign miners drove the non-union men operating the washery of the Erie Coal company from work. Clubs and stones were used. An Italian workman was seriously injured.

The National Convention.

Hazleton, Pa., May 17.—Today it was learned that Cleveland is being favorably considered by the miners as a place for the national convention. It is considered a little more central than Indianapolis for both the soft and hard coal men.

Offer to Arbitrate.

Washington, May 17.—The National Civic Federation has under serious consideration the means whereby it may be helpful in bringing about a termination of the anthracite coal strike. A tender of the good offices of the federation with a suggestion of arbitration of differences, among other things, has been discussed in a tentative way, but no definite conclusion has been reached, and several days will be permitted to elapse, before a determination will be reached as to what course the federation should pursue.

MR. CARNEGIE'S SUBSCRIPTION.

London, May 17.—Andrew Carnegie sent $5000 to the Mahan House West Indian relief fund, which now amounts to $50,000. With the exception of Lord Rothchild's subscription of $2500 the other donations are not large.

RIOTERS ARE QUIET TODAY

BUT THE TROUBLE MAY NOT YET BE OVER

Mass Meeting Will be Held Tonight to Protest Against the Prices of Beef

New York, May 17.—With the coming of the Jewish Sabbath, the meat riots on the lower east side ceased this morning and the poor who yesterday stoned the Kosher markets went to their synagogues and prayed for relief from exorbitant prices.

Scenes of disorder were absent but several hundred police reserves were assembled in the various East Side stations in case of another outbreak. The Jewish Sabbath closes at 6 this evening and it is feared another outbreak may occur. The police will be ordered out in force to New Irving hall tonight where a mass meeting to protest against the prices of beef will be held. Plans will also be made for a monster parade of women, which will pass from the tenement section through Fifth Avenue and before the houses of the rich. All the women who were arrested in the riots of yesterday and Thursday have had their fines paid by friends who begged or borrowed the money.

PEOPLE PANIC STRICKEN.

Ft. de France, Martinique, Friday May 16.—Great flashes of very bright light were emitted from Mt. Pelee between 10 and 11 o'clock last night. They were visible from here. Thick glowing red clouds, interspersed with flashes of light, are issuing from the volcano this morning. Showers of cinders, lasting for 20 minutes, accompanied the activity. The people in the district of Lorrain, Marigot, St. Marie and La Trinite are panic-stricken.

DESPAIR

Has Seized Upon St. Vincent People. Correspondent Visits the Devastated District.

Kingston, Island of St. Vincent, May 17.—A correspondent has returned from a visit on horseback, to the devastated district of this island, during which he traveled 50 miles and penetrated to within five miles of the Soufriere crater.

The ash covered area of St. Vincent exceeds that of Martinique, which the correspondent has also explored. The most conservative estimates of the death rate here place the number at 1,700. About 1300 bodies have already been interred. The entire northern part of the island is covered with ashes to an average depth of 18 inches varying from a thin layer at Kingstown to two feet at Georgetown.

While the outbreak of the volcano on the island of Martinique killed more people outright more territory has been ruined in St. Vincent, hence there is greater destitution here.

Rough coffins are being made to receive the remains of the victims. The hospital here is filled with dying people. Fifty injured persons are lying on the floor of the building as there are no beds for their accommodation. Two days elapsed before there were any burials, as the negroes refused to dig the necessary trenches, though they were offered three times the usual wages by the local authorities.

The stench in the afflicted districts is terrible beyond description. Nearly all the huts left standing are filled with dead bodies. In some cases disinfectants and the usual means of disposing of the dead are useless and cremation has to be resorted to.

When it is possible the bodies are dragged with ropes to the trenches and there are hastily covered up quicklime being used when available. Many of the dead bodies were so covered with dust that they were not discovered until walked upon by visitors or by the relieving officers or their assistants.

The scenes witnessed were unprecedented in the history of the colony.

Advices received here from Fort de France say that looting and robbery are on the increase at St. Pierre and elsewhere, and that the authorities cannot cope with the conditions, especially as local political quarrels at St. Pierre are interfering with practical harmonious action. There are 6000 refugees at Fort de France and rioting is feared there.

CARRIE NATION SENT TO JAIL.

Topeka, Kas., May 17.—Mrs. Carrie Nation was sentenced to 30 days in prison and to pay a fine of $100 by Judge Hazen in the district court, for smashing bar fixtures stored in a vacant barn in this city, in February, 1901. She will not appeal the case, and has gone to jail.

TELLS HOUSE OF OUTRAGES

CONGRESSMAN DETAILS PHILIPPINE CRUELITIES.

Declares Proofs of His Charges Are Ample and Will be Offered—A Stormy Debate.

Washington, May 17.—The House yesterday was plunged into an exciting debate on Philippine affairs. Heretofore the subject of alleged atrocities in the islands has engaged the attention of the Senate alone and only occasional echoes have been heard in the House. But yesterday the reports of cruelty and outrage were rehearsed in the House with vehemence and bitterness.

The naval bill was the order of the day, but it received only scant attention after the allegations of Philippine outrages were presented. A speech by Mr. Vandiver of Missouri reciting instances of alleged outrage brought up the discussion. Mr. Vandiver of Missouri sent to the desk and had read a statement appearing in the Irish World signed by Corporal Richard O'Brien, company M. Twenty-sixth volunteers, giving details of atrocities in the Philippines, the killing of native women and babies under circumstances of unusual cruelty, including the alleged use of dum-dum bullets. Mr. Vandiver read a letter from Patrick Ford, editor of the Irish World, saying he had talked with Corporal O'Brien, who reaffirmed the charges and was ready to make affidavit to them to be forwarded to Washington.

The charges would be too horrible for belief Mr. Vandiver said, if they were not borne out substantially by official reports of outrages by our forces against the natives. When Mr. Vandiver asked if any one in behalf of the administration was ready to rise and defend the atrocities by American soldiers on natives, W. A. Smith of Michigan retorted with an inquiry whether anyone on the other side of the chamber was ready to rise and defend the atrocities of natives on American soldiers. Mr. Vandiver replied that atrocities neither on one side nor the other were defensible.

STRANGE

STORY IS RELATED BY MR. JAMES R. FAUST.

CONSPIRACY TO RAILROAD HIM TO PRISON

TO DEFEAT HIS DAMAGE SUITS.

Which are Pending in Iowa—He Escaped From an Asylum in Toledo, Ohio.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 17.—James R. Faust has filed a $50,000 damage suit at Marshalltown against the North western railway and Detectives C. D. Waters and A. D. Riley and Attorney T. Elmford, employees of the railway, alleging that they conspired to maliciously railroad him to the penitentiary in order to defeat damage suits which he had instituted against the company; that as soon as he had served the three years' imprisonment to which he was sentenced he was kidnapped as he was leaving the penitentiary, spirited to a private madhouse in Chicago and transferred, eight months later, to the State Hospital for the Insane at Toledo, Ohio, from which he made a thrilling escape last fall.

Faust made his way on foot back to his former home, hiding by day and working by night, not daring to write to his wife for fear of exposure. When he reappeared at home he found that his wife had believed him to have been murdered upon leaving the penitentiary. His efforts to communicate with her had been blocked, he claims, by those who kept him in insane asylums. He has established that he was perfectly sane when leaving the prison and upon escaping from the Toledo asylum and that he was never known to have been insane. He has also obtained a confession from one C. F. Rawlins that Rawlins committed the crime of arson for which he himself was sentenced, and claims he can show that Rawlins was employed to do the act.

Faust states in his petition on oath that the defendant detective, in placing him through an alleged sweating process pointed a revolver at his head and commanded him to confess, that they pointed to a tree outside the window and said they would string him up if he did not confess; that they even sent a man after the rope to be used for this purpose. Faust has acquitted himself in such a manner since returning home that he has earned the confidence and respect of all who know him and his story, which at first seemed beyond credence, is now believed by all his friends.

BOY

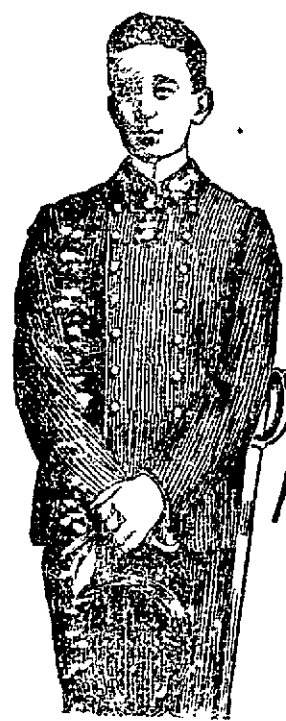

KING OF SPAIN WAS CROWNED TODAY.

THE CEREMONY AT MADRID WAS SIMPLE.

PROCESSION FIVE MILES LONG

Witnessed by 300,000 People—City is Decorated Gorgeously—Troops Posted All Over City.

Madrid, May 17. General Weyler has sixty thousand troops posted about the city today to quell any disturbance and to assure a peaceful coronation day for King Alfonso who was crowned today King of Gibraltar, of East and West Indies and continent Alfonso XIII Crowned King Today. Of Oceania. A thousand nobles and grandees witnessed the ceremony. No crown was placed on the King's head. The ceremony was as simple as the inauguration of the United States president, the King simply taking an oath to observe the Spanish constitution. Three hundred thousand people saw the gorgeous procession, which was five miles long.

The ceremony took place in the Madrid chamber of deputies. The act of transforming the 16 year old boy into the responsible ruler of 18,000,000 people took less than 10 minutes. When the King reached the throne the president of the chamber advanced toward him, bowed low and proceeded to administer the oath. His majesty listened to the reading and then repeated in shrill boyish tones, though with no nervous accent: "I swear to obey and to compel obedience to the constitution and laws of the monarchy and make the good of the people the inspiration of my acts. If thus I do, may God reward me, if not, may he punish me."

This concluded the ceremony. After taking the oath his majesty proceeded to the cathedral where he received the benediction of the cardinal archbishop.

The boy king then returned to the royal palace and received the congratulations of the foreign envoys. People began to pour into Madrid from all over the country, last night, and the city which already had more guests than it could accommodate was unable to provide for the unexpected influx of visitors. Ten thousand army tents were pressed into service to afford temporary shelter. The police estimate that nearly 10,000 spectators have come into the city within the past 24 hours.

This afternoon a salvo of artillery fired from the palace grounds announced that the royal procession had started. It was a long line of mediaeval uniforms, gaily caparisoned horses and golden coaches more brilliant than the most gorgeous circus parade ever seen. The soldiers and attendants wore costumes of the time of Charles I as a reminder of the period when Spain was mistress of most of Europe and though Spain is now so impoverished that bread riots have lost all novelty because of their frequency, the government spent several fortunes in providing uniforms for those in line. The gold lace worn by 25 servants that waited on the king alone cost $30,000. At the head of the parade rode two trumpeters dressed in red silk with the arms of Castile and Aragon emblazoned on their breasts. From their trumpets hung banners with the Spanish standard on them, and their horses were covered with a mass of gold cloth.

Bull Fights a Feature.

Madrid, May 17.—King Alfonso was invested with a number of foreign decorations yesterday. The ceremony, which was very imposing, took place in the throne room of the palace. The King was surrounded by a brilliant assemblage of high officers of state. Among the orders bestowed upon him was that of the Garter, which he received from the Duke of Connaught, as representative of King Edward; the cordon blue of the Order of the Seraphim, from Prince Eugene of Sweden, representing King Oscar, and the Royal Order of Siam, from the Crown Prince of Siam, the special envoy of the King of Siam. The decorations are profuse.

The facades of many houses are almost hidden by long stretches of red and yellow cloth, and their occupants have hung multi-colored carpets, silken tapestries, many of them beautifully embroidered with flowers and other such devices from the windows and balconies and festoons of evergreens, in which variegated fairy lamps forming rosebuds, are stretched across the streets from imitation palm trees, and banners flutter from countless Venetian masts. The numerous grand stands are draped and beflagged.

A pilgrimage from San Isidro has brought the country folk to town and picturesque groups of peasants are parading the streets.

There was a brilliant banquet at the palace last night. Dr. Curry, the United States envoy and the other envoys were present. The surrounding streets were beflagged, draped, dazzlingly illuminated and crowded with sightseers. The British and American legations were artistically illuminated.

A special bull fight, in which eight bulls appeared, was held in the afternoon at the Puerta Del Sol. No fewer than 15 bull fights are to take place in connection with the festivities, and over 100 bulls are to be killed. Free dinners were given 3000 poor persons. This charity will be repeated daily until May 24. Fifty thousand Queen Regent Maria Christina. Pesetas have been distributed to the poor, and small sums will be deposited in savings banks in the names of all children born Saturday, May 17, the day the King takes the oath.

Queen Regent's Donation. Madrid, May 17.—The Queen Regent this morning conferred on President Loubet of France the order of the Golden Fleece, and sent to the president 10,000 pesetas ($1,550) for the aid of the Martinique sufferers.

Madrid, May 17.—It is presently stated this evening that during the coronation ceremony today a man made an attempt to assassinate King Alfonso. The weapon used was a knife. The King was not hurt and his assassin was arrested. The report cannot be confirmed in official circles. The coronation ceremonies continued without visible interruption.

Probable Lynching.

Cuyahoga Falls, May 17.—Bertha Moore, aged 19, of Monroe Falls, was brutally assaulted near here this morning by three negroes. The negroes are now lodged in jail here and a mob is trying to batter down the doors with a lynching in prospect.

BURNED BY A LIVE WIRE.

Columbus, May 17.—Ross Puseell, a trolley line repairer, fell across a live trolley wire at State and Scioto streets this morning and hung burning and unconscious there nearly 10 minutes, when his body slipped to the ground. Though frightfully shocked and burned he may live.

MANY

WERE INJURED AT A CHICAGO FIRE FRIDAY NIGHT.

FIVE THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN FATALLY HURT.

A THOUSAND VIEWING THE FIRE

From a Viaduct Were Suddenly Precipitated to the Ground Twenty Feet Below.

Chicago, May 17.—During the progress of a fire last night which destroyed the lard refinery of Armour & Co., in the Union stockyards, 29 people were injured, five of them in a manner which will probably cause death in a short time. The loss of the company is estimated by its officers at $500,000 to $800,000.

There were many accidents, but by far the larger number of those who were hurt met their injuries by the falling of a hog runway upon which they were standing to obtain a better view of the fire.

Fatally Injured.

Jennie Smith, stenographer, German American Provision company, both legs broken.

Ray Irwin, 11 years old, internal injuries and head badly cut.

Israel Morris, driver police patrol wagon, both legs broken.

Micahel Maloy, driver of fire engine, internal injuries.

Others Injured.

John Hoffman, head cut and arm broken.

William Grebling, head cut open.

Mrs. Morris Schwader, wife of the manager of the German American Provision company, hands and arms badly cut.

Wm. McKeever, head cut.

James McNamara, head cut.

Mabel Morse, head cut and both shoulders dislocated by falling beam.

Mrs. F. R. Gifford, arm broken.

Mamie Roach, head cut.

Edward Busby, internal injuries, very serious, but recovery probable.

David Fleming, arms and back cut.

The lard refinery had just been completed and was considered by its owners the most complete establishment of its kind in the United States. It stood five stories high and 250 and 300 feet. It was filled with new machinery and during the day 2000 people worked within its walls. The night shift numbers 700 and all of them were in the building when the fire broke out. It is thought that all escaped in safety.

The fire originated with an explosion of three lard tanks on the fifth floor of the building.

The cause of the explosion is unknown, but the three tanks which were filled with boiling lard, and went up with a roar almost in the same second. It was not a minute after the explosion before the entire fifth floor was a mass of flames.

All the workmen in the building made a frantic rush for safety.

The fire was one of the most spectacular that has been seen in Chicago in recent years, and the display attracted an enormous crowd. That portion of the Forty-fourth street viaduct was densely packed and suddenly about 200 feet of a hog runway gave way, precipitating fully 1000 persons to the ground.

The firemen instantly abandoned their work on the building and devoted their energies to saving the people. All were taken from the wreckage within a few minutes and placed in an improvised hospital in the plant of the German American Provision company.

Chicago, May 17.—It is today announced that of the scores who were caught in the collapse of the roof of the runway at the stock yards last night only three persons are fatally injured.

A POOR BRITISH EXCUSE.

On the ground of lack of precedent Balfour, government leader in the House of Commons, declined to comply with the suggestion of John Dillon, nationalist, that Parliament make an appropriation for aid in Martinique.

Yet there is no other government on the globe which ought to be so familiar with precedent in such a case. Subjects of the British empire have been objects of universal charity oftener than the people of any other lands. Not once, but repeatedly the charity of mankind has been required to succor the famishing under the British flag from Ireland in the west to India in the east. It was only recently that famine committees solicited subscriptions for relief in India.

There is a distinction also between the exigency in Martinique and the famines which have periodically decimated Ireland and India. The catastrophe at Martinique was a great calamity of nature, beyond the control of any human being, and for which no portion of mankind is in any way responsible, directly or indirectly.

Not so with the calls for charity that have been made to relieve famine and scourge in various portions of the British empire for a century or more. When the United States ship that bore supplies to Ireland during the famine entered Queenstown harbor she met there three British ships carrying the harvests out to pay rents to alien landlords. But for the land tax and the salt tax, famine in India would never reach the colossal dimensions which have appalled universal pity.

Mr. Balfour ought not to have been at a loss for precedent.

Even Mr. Lodge, who is understood to accept with appropriate modesty the designation of the scholar in politics, cannot rid himself of the besetting Republican sin of untruthfulness when politics is in question. Mr. Lodge knows perfectly well that people who object to the "water cure" and to other brutalities exercised by certain officers in the Philippines are not "enemies of the army." On the contrary, they are its friends, for they demand that the majority of brave and humane soldiers shall not be disgraced by the actions of a few barbarians. Mr. Lodge, scholar though he is, can not resist the temptation to make a cheap partisan of himself when he might easily do his party and his country a service by admitting what everybody knows to be the truth.

TWO OPINIONS OF THE FILIPINOS

Governor Taft of the Philippine colonial empire, concludes a series of papers in the Independent on the much-debated question, with the statement that the uneducated people comprise about 90 per cent of the population. Further, he says:

They are not a warlike race; they are not a proud people; they are a quiet, decorous and timid people. * * * Even in their uneducated and superstitious condition of mind, however, these people have one bond of union with us, and that is their Christian training for two hundred years. * * *

The Filipino is attached to his church. He is a good Roman Catholic. * * * These are a timid people, a people who have been oppressed in times past, and who have sought to escape oppression—as oppressed people in history always have sought to escape oppression—by dissimulation and what the army calls treachery and lying.

Of the present political capacity of the masses of the people, Governor Taft is very skeptical, but he believes it entirely possible to train them and lead them by the example of a government honestly administered and progressively autonomous to a condition of fitness for ultimate self-government.

But a regular army officer, now at home in Philadelphia on leave of absence uses this language in discussing the situation in the Philippines:

ing the characteristics of the people described by Governor Taft as "good Roman Catholic Christians":

The Philippines are all right enough, or rather will be when we get the damned niggers properly licked. The country is fine, but as long as you people at home keep on crying for freedom and such rot for the treacherous robbers, you will never do anything with the islands. It is one thing to fight men, but it's a different story when you have to march through a wild country and fight a crazy lot of monkeys, who stick a knife into you the moment you turn your back.

It's all right to sympathize with them in America, but in the island swamps it's another thing. All you want to do then is to thrash it—out of 'em and get back to camp. As a rule this fighting is too much like work, and the boys aren't for it a bit. If you want real fun, you ought to see a good live "nigger drive." It beats all. When our boys get them on the run and corner the devils, then look out. It don't take long to clean 'em up. Of course, it's not exactly war, but then they are not real human beings. America has got to grow, and any damned nigger people who get in the way had better look out, for we'll walk right over them every time.

Only Tired at Times.

(Wheeling Register.)

Senator Hanna in his alleged efforts to bring about a settlement of the strike in the anthracite region, was "thrown down" by Morgan and Griscom, who are said to be "tired of political interference with their business." One can't help remarking how differently these mighty trust magnates look upon interference when they are moving on Washington with all their forces to secure government favors and tariff bounty. At those times they can't secure too much political interference in their business.

AN INTERNATIONAL TOWN.

Peccarities of Nogales, on the Mexican Border Line.

It would be incorrect to date a letter from either Nogales, Ariz., or Nogales, Mex., alone, for the town belongs so thoroughly and completely to both that neither half is a town at all. It is the most completely and curiously international place that can be conceived of. There is no separation of the two parts visible as you look down on the town from the hills, and the life and the ordinary traffic of the place flow back and forth with no apparent barrier to say them. However, it must not be supposed that there is free trade across the thoroughfare, which on one side is called International street and on the other the Calle Internacional.

In the middle of the street, where the Calle Elias, or main business street, crosses the international avenue, stands a stone obelisk about twelve feet high, and in the vicinity of this are always one or two guards in civilian dress, who pay no attention to empty handed passersby, but will stop any carriage or any person who offers to cross with a burden that might contain dutiable material. Occasionally on the Mexican side one sees a Mexican soldier in uniform, but the guard near by is too small to hold more than a small detachment, and neither soldiers nor uniformed customs guards are ever in evidence along the border.

The Americans live apart from one another in individual houses of all grades, most of which are very neat and some of which are quite fine and must have been costly. Their streets run up the sides of the mountain gien in which the town is situated. In among their houses are the adobe cabins of the Mexicans, who are their hewers of wood and drawers of water (these terms being literally correct here, for the fuel of the country is knotted and gnarled wood, brought from the hills on donkeys' backs, and the town water won't run up to the higher elevations).

TRICKS

AT THE LAST HOURS OF THE LEGISLATURE

TO KILL MEASURES THAT HAD PASSED BOTH HOUSES.

THE PARTY STATE CONVENTION

Democrats Will Meet About July 1—Republicans Will Have Rows at Theirs at Cleveland.

Columbus, May 17.—It is now probable that the Democratic state central committee will again follow the custom of recent years and permit the Republicans to be pretty well launched in their campaign work before holding the Democratic State Convention, which is hardly expected to meet earlier than the first week of July and perhaps not for a week later. This is not wholly satisfactory to many Democrats who would like to follow the Republicans within a week in nominating a state ticket, but a reason for the later date is given this year that unfortunately has not held good in "normal" years. It is said there is less necessity than heretofore for having the Democratic executive committee begin its labors early, because the preliminaries have been well attended to by the permanent committee of five (an organization, and the campaign, with the exception of the tariff and platform, is substantially open now. The permanent committee expects to hand over to the state executive committee a complete organization in every county, when the time arrives for the latter body to take up the burden of management. This is undoubtedly a long step in the right direction and will reconcile many Democrats who favor an early convention to the later date preferred by the state central committee. Members of the committee on organization confidently predict that their work thus far will be approved by the state central committee and the convention and that the party at large will be more than satisfied with the condition of affairs when all the facts are known.

There is still a strong probability that some other city than Columbus will have the honor of entertaining the Democratic hosts this year. Toledo, Sandusky and Zanesville are all regarded favorably by leading Columbus Democrats who are unwilling to go before the state committee and plead for the capital this year, on account of the indifference which this city has recently manifested toward the conventions of both parties. With such a local feeling existing it will require no great effort to take the convention elsewhere, and the general opinion is that it will be done.

It is now only ten days until the Republicans meet in Cleveland to nominate the candidates whom Hanna, Foraker and Cox can agree upon and scrap over those in regard to whom no agreement can be brought about. The latter are the candidates for supreme judge, dairy and food commissioner, and probably for members of the state board of public works. Secretary of State Laylin will head the Republican ticket again in conformity with precedent and not because he has any particular strength with his party. He has no personal following, the party owes him nothing and his record in office has not especially commended him even to Republicans. On the contrary his dicker and lobbying during the recent session of the legislature earned him the silent opposition of many members of his own party, and it will be manifested at the proper time. A candidate on the Democratic side with the elements of leadership will be in a very fair way to give Mr. Laylin a warm contest, and if one is nominated who will strengthen the whole ticket the chances will be exceedingly bright for Democratic victory.

There will be a merry time over the Republican nomination for state dairy and food commissioner. A war of extermination has been declared between the associate grafters of Commissioner Joe Blackburn and his opponents, and whichever side triumphs, the result will engender much Republican bitterness and pave the way for the election of a Democratic commissioner this year. Blackburn's candidate is Fred W. Herbst of this city, an employee of his department and one of the commissioner's professional organizers. The leading Anti-Blackburn candidate is Linus B. Kauffman, also of Columbus. Kauffman trails with the Daugherty people, while Herbst, who was formerly a Kurtz-Foraker man, has of late deserted his old associates and flirted with the Hanna people, but without succeeding in being taken into their confidence. Representative Ankeny of Greene county is also a candidate, representing the Hanna people or at least claiming to do so. It will be a hot three-cornered fight, requiring a very discreet and prophetic mind to pick the winner. Blackburn's opponents fear his organization, to the building of which he has prostituted the functions of his office in a manner seldom equalled for bold-faced plotting for self in the history of Ohio politics. His present object is to practically secure himself by naming one of his henchmen as his successor, at the same time preventing any investigation of the affairs of his department as conducted under his two administrations.

The Republican platform will not be an interesting document this year. It will throw a few bouquets at President Roosevelt, Governor Nash and Senators Hanna and Foraker and will gloss over the record made in the late general assembly with glittering generalities expressing satisfaction that the party leaders are far from feeling. No advanced position will be taken on any subject of current interest and no attempt made to offer reasons for granting another lease of life to the J. O. P. in this state. Hanna simply depends on what he considers the habit of the people of Ohio of voting the Republican ticket. With such an indifferent campaign on the Republican side, Democratic opportunity is more promising this year than at any time during the past two decades.

The last hours of the Seventy-fifth General Assembly were the most unsavory of the session. Not the least interesting of the events of the closing day was the battle between the speaker and the president of the Senate. Both men winked at the method of tiffing legislation, which is called "losing bills," but when the bill to have all the printing of cases carried to the supreme court done through the office of the supreme court clerk, he two forces met on equal ground, for both knew the tricks of the other, not evidently new all the tricks.

During the morning the bill to have all the Supreme court printing done by the clerk, which had been passed, was reconsidered. Archer declared that the bill had been enrolled and signed and that the rules prevented the House from reconsideration. Sheets was called in and gave each party the advice they wanted to maintain their position. Speaker McKinnon said he would not sign the bill and that it would fail to become a law for want of a signature. President Archer did not storm or rave. He knew McKinnon, and knew that it would do no good. He simply sent word to McKinnon: "Put your name on the bill and I will sign the re-districting bill at once. I will wait on the re-districting bill, however, until he Archer bill is signed."

This was enough. McKinnon signed the bill. Archer and Clerk Emerson thought they had won, but there appears to have been another chapter, for now it is said that the report of the enrolling committee saying the bill was properly enrolled was omitted from the clerk's journal. This invalidates the bill, for while the bill actually bears the speaker's signature, the journal shows that it has not been signed, and the journal is the record which rules.

Another queer affair was the Jones car coupler bill. Railroad companies fought this bill, and it was conveniently lost. No one thinks it was lost accidentally, and in fact such a thing has not been hinted. It was lost because certain interests with a pull did not want it passed. Jones had it re-enrolled and made such a fuss that the officers had to sign it. The Bartington bill, placing the officers of Shelby county on a salary, was deliberately laid to one side. One of the clerks of the legislature simply placed the bill in a drawer and that was the end of it. The bill had passed, but it was not signed, and is not a law.

SEEK CANADIAN LANDS.

Americans Securing Farms in Far Northwest.

BIG GAINS FOR THE COUNTRY.

J. H. Haslam of Winnipeg Discusses the Resources of Manitoba and Other Districts—Says the New Settlers Are Slow to Become Canadians.

"Fifty thousand Americans will move from the United States this year to the northwest," said J. H. Haslam, of Winnipeg the other day to a reporter of the Chicago Record-Herald. "They will do this not because they dislike the United States, but because of an extraordinary land movement is taking place, and it is affecting your farming population living between the one hundredth parallel and the state of Ohio. Your overflood population is after our good Canadian farming lands, and the effect this movement may have in Americanizing northwest Canada promises to be far reaching."

Mr. Haslam is the largest individual land owner probably of Canada.

"I will admit," said Mr. Haslam, "that we Canadians have been a little slow. Our development has not been markedly fast until recently. We have not cordially welcomed Englishmen, but the Americans we like to take in and make one of us. For a number of years in the region west of Winnipeg the American farming implement, machinery and other manufactures have been rapidly taken by our people. Your trade with us last year was $110,000,000 and ours $45,000,000."

"Now your people are coming to us, and their influence is beginning to be felt in conjunction with that of our exports. Your population of farmers overflowed from Ohio to Indiana, then to Illinois, then to Iowa and then into Minnesota and the Dakotas. Now the overflow has penetrated to the Manitoba district, to the Assiniboia and the Saskatchewan. Northern Illinois farmers, Iowa farmers, farmers from southern Minnesota, are buying our unimproved lands at $4 to $8 an acre or taking improved lands at $35 and $40 an acre. They are bringing American push and ingenuity to Canadian soil, and the heavy influx is likely to change not only the physical features of the Canadian northwest, but political complications and economic conditions."

"These new settlers are not becoming Canadian citizens at present. That will come to a certain extent after awhile. But they are bringing American money and courage and brains to join with the courage and brains of the pioneers of our country, and the movement is literally by train loads without any particular encouragement from the railway companies. It ought to bring about a closer bond of sympathy between this country and Canada and lead to reciprocity. The balance of trade is in your favor; it must remain so, and the interests of the two lands, while under different governments, are much the same."

"Winnipeg is to become the St. Petersburg of this continent—the great city of the north. It is modern in every sense of the word and growing rapidly. Even though we lack railway competition and the railways have been slow in grasping the situation our growth has been healthy and little short of phenomenal. The country surrounding us is as large as Austria, France and Germany and practically in the same latitude. Our winters are not severe, our summers delightful. We raise magnificent potatoes, the best wheat on earth, and experiments with corn at Fargo indicate that we may yet have that cereal. We can grow apples, we have the best timber, as much iron as there is in northern Minnesota and soft coal of excellent quality. Our grazing lands are also rich, and we export cattle to England."

"We were strongly for reciprocity with this country until President Cleveland's message on the Venezuelan question. Your Canadian is nothing if not loyal, and that message brought his back up for England in great fashion. Since then, although I believe reciprocity would be an excellent thing for both countries, and a strong minority thinks that way also, the western Canadians have not paid so much attention to it. They have built up a fine export trade with England, and it is profitable."

"You need our cattle and some other things. We need much that you have. There appears to be no reason why we cannot dwell side by side in amity and without a tariff wall between us. The American farmer who wishes for new land to open sees that already, and he is coming to us in a way that is dotting the Manitoba and Assiniboia regions with new homes and fruitful farms."

Mr. Haslam was a candidate for the Canadian parliament once and was defeated by only one vote.

Brigham Young Family Reunion.
The descendants of Brigham Young, the late president of the Mormon church, have determined to keep up the family association, and for that purpose a family reunion has been planned, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. As no available building in Salt Lake City is large enough for the reunion it will be held in the open air. Brigham Young had fifty-six children, of whom forty-seven survived him. There are 234 grandchildren of the Mormon leader and 745 great-grandchildren, making a total of more than 1,000 descendants of a man who has died since the civil war.

SOCIETY NEWS OF THE WEEK

The Tuesday afternoon Euchre club did not meet this week on account of the death of Mrs. Fleck.

A small party, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Edmiston, Mr. Edmiston's two brothers, who were his guests, and Miss McCune, and Miss Woodbridge, spent Thursday at Buckeye Lake.

Miss Alice Barker pleasantly entertained the Alpha club on Friday. Those present were Pearl Mercer, Anna Davis, Ruth Hatch, Beitha Latimer, Mary Louise Rank, Grace Fulton, and Emma Kammerer. Delicious refreshments were served.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Shephardson of Granville, gave a reception in honor of her daughters-in-law, Mrs. Daniel Shephardson and Mrs. Francis W. Shephardson of Chicago. Those attending from Newark were Mrs. Frank D. Hall, Mrs. J. R. Davies, Miss Davies, and Mrs. Ross Smith.

The Children's club met on Friday afternoon, after school, with Lillian Mannion at her home on West Church street. The members of this club are Margery Lawhead, Genevieve Mannion, Margaret Fuller, Dorothy Edmiston, and Lillian Mannion. The chief object of the club is amusement, and the enjoyment of the lunch which they all bring to the meeting in regular picnic style.

The Mission Circle of the Second Presbyterian church held a work meeting on Friday afternoon at the home of the president, Miss Margaret Wallace. The attendance was not so large as it should have been, but for all that, considerable work was done. A very small number of quilt patches have been contributed so far, and it is earnestly desired that each member will make one patch.

A grand reception was given by the people of the West End last Thursday night at the home of Rev. F. W. Yantis on Hoover street. About sixty were in attendance and it was indeed an enjoyable time. Music was one of the leading festivities of the evening. J. Wesley Yantis, the singing evangelist, having returned Tuesday morning from St. Louis.

The Research club held their last meeting of the club year this afternoon at the home of Miss Louanna Taylor, three miles south of town. The following is the program:

Quotations—Miscellaneous.
Mexico Under President Diaz—Miss Foreman.
The Making of Perfumes—Miss Van Horn.
Paper—Americanisms—Mrs. Sinter.

Current Events—Mrs. Wilson.

The following guests enjoyed the hospitality of Miss Taylor Mrs. Childs, Misses Scott, Metcalf and Hamilton.

On Thursday evening a surprise party was given at the home of Miss Viola Brumley, 68 Jefferson street, in honor of Miss Rosa Wilson. Those present were Misses Kate Hosenberger, Mabel Cochran, Bessie Berger, Lillian Moore, Alice Patchen, Lulu Bliss Fannie Davis, Mae Wilson, Anna Harold, Ada Kemp, Rosa Wilson and Messrs. George Hickerson, Clyde Gallagher, Perry Settles, Edward Smith, Charles Eccleberry, Ira Stickle, James Wilson Frank Harold, Charles Wilson, Allen Cochran, and Robert Becey. The evening was spent in playing games, after which ice cream and cake were served.

A very pleasant dinner party was given on Wednesday evening by Mrs. J. W. Mannion, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Delay, the guests being mostly Mrs. Mannion's neighbors. The dinner table was decorated with carnations and smilax, and the place cards were beautiful water colors done by the hostess. On the reverse side of the cards were written conundrums which furnished entertainment at dinner. Each guest had been asked to bring a juvenile photograph of herself. The photographs were pinned on the wall, and were guessed, a prize of carnations being given to the one guessing the greatest number correctly. Music and elocution also added to the evening's entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Norton Haughey entertained a number of their friends most charmingly on Thursday evening. The principal feature of the evening's entertainment was the beautiful music on the mandolin and guitar by the De Haven Bros. Singing and dancing were also enjoyed. Delicious refreshments were served during the evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Markham, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carlisle, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Haughey, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Stockberger, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. The Mission Circle of the Second Presbyterian church held its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening in the church parlor. After the opening exercises the following program was carried out:

Siam and Laos. Porto Rico.
Sam and Loos—Mrs. C. S. Morse, Leader. Helen Jones, Bertha Fulton.
Porto Rico—Miss Eva Thacker, Leader. Lora Smythe, Mrs. Wintermute.

After the close of the program, refreshments were served, but in the midst of the social hour the sad news of Mrs. Fleck's death was brought, which cast a gloom over the entire company. Mrs. Fleck was not a member of the society, but ever to it she gave her sympathy, and aid when needed.

On last Saturday evening a number of the friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Rondo Trace decided to call on them at their home, 204 Buckingham street. They accordingly arrayed themselves in masks and corresponding raiment, and went in a body to the house. To say that they were surprised, is putting it mildly. After some time had elapsed, during which all sat in silence, Mr. and Mrs. Trace agreed to let them stay. After the maskers had been identified, a very lively time was enjoyed by all. The self-invited guests had thoughtfully taken ice cream and cake, which were enjoyed. At a late hour the guests departed, wishing their newly married friends a long life of such pleasures and good will as were seen that evening.

Mrs. Frank Agnew was hostess Friday afternoon at her cozy home on Elm street to the Coterie club at a special meeting held in honor of the retiring president, Mrs. Kelley, who will soon leave for Cambridge to make her home. There was a full attendance of the members, all of whom regret the severing of the pleasant social ties which have united the club and its president.

The afternoon's program consisted of a review of the work for the past year with a test of the memory of the members by a friendly contest in which Mrs. Cora Laird was the winner of the prize. Mrs. Charles L. Conrad won the prize in a cake guessing contest. Both prizes were very pretty and greatly appreciated by the recipients. Mrs. Conrad entertained the guests with some choice instrumental music. Mrs. Agnew was assisted in serving refreshments by Misses Anny Alspach and Ruth Agnew. Mrs. Frank Timms was a guest.

The Alfreitas gave one of their most charming dances at Brennan's Hall Friday evening. The guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Gillett, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. NEW BISHOP

To the Philippines Urged to Use His Influence in Stopping All Cruelties.

New York, May 17.—A service was held in Calvary Episcopal church as a farewell to Rt. Rev. Charles H. Brent, the newly appointed Episcopal Bishop of the Philippines.

The celebration of the bishop's communion was made by Bishop Francis, of Indiana. Bishop Hall of Vermont, preached the sermon, in the course of which he alluded to the stories of alleged cruelties practiced by American soldiers on the Filipinos, and said:

"There is a deep question which has been referred to in pulpits, in the press and elsewhere, the question of the torture of the Filipinos by the army. Because these people are ignorant it is no excuse that they should be tortured. The words of President Roosevelt stand out boldly when he said: 'Nothing can justify or will justify the use of torture methods by the American army so long as I am President of the United States.' It will be your duty while there to use your influence and that of the great church which is behind you to stop these practices which have brought the blush of shame to the cheeks of every true American patriot."

Bishop Brent sails today.

MAJOR GENERAL ROSECRANS.

Washington, May 17.—Impressive services were held today at the Arlington national cemetery when the remains of the late Major General William Stark Rosecrans were reinterred in the plot of land sacred to the memory of the nation's heroes. The body was brought from Los Angeles, Cal., where it had lain in a vault since General Rosecrans's death and was taken to the cemetery on a flag draped caisson with all the honors due the rank of a major general.

Gallipolis, Ohio, May 17.—Mary Midland of Wheeling who was arrested on a charge of suspicion, broke jail last night. She dug through the wall and using a bed quilt for a rope lowered herself from the second floor. The woman is alleged to be a shoplifter and is wanted in Marietta and Parkersburg.

CIRCUS MEN

Riot With B. & O. Railway Employees at Everson—Many Were Hurt in the Conflict.

Conneville, Pa., May 17.—An attraction not on the billboards was pulled off at the Walter L. Main show at Everson in the form of a riot between canvassmen and a crowd of Baltimore & Ohio railroad men. More than 50 shots were fired, one man was fatally shot and two others beaten into insensibility. James Karns, a fireman, was shot through the head and is dying. Robert Durell, a brakeman, was badly beaten about the head and cut over the body. H. F. McLalan, a conductor, has had wounds over the head and face. A number of Conneville railroaders attended the show.

Early in the evening Durell had an altercation with a canvassman, who knocked him down with a stake, afterward throwing him over a steep embankment. Durell was unconscious for almost an hour, and when he revived he gathered a dozen railroaders and went after revenge. The canvassman who assaulted him was found and severely beaten. McLalan then came and persuaded the crowd to start home. They were walking along the railroad when about 15 canvassmen attacked them.

The showmen were not backward about shooting and Karns fell with the first fire. McLalan was caught and beaten into insensibility and Durell came in for another share of kicks and bruises. In all more than 50 shots were fired. The bullet that hit Karns entered just over the eyes and its course has not been determined. Officers started after the show and arrests will probably be made today. All the railroaders participating in the affair were from Conneville.

CARNEGIE

Would Now Gladly Pay Twenty Millions to Restore Republic to Its First Principles.

New York, May 17.—A dispatch from London says that Andrew Carnegie, when questioned on the accuracy of Mr. Seward's statement respecting his offer to buy the Philippines, said: "Seward's statement is quite true. I would gladly pay $20,000,000 today to restore the republic to its first principles."

The Seward statement was that Andrew Carnegie told President McKinley in 1898 that he would furnish the $20,000,000 this government paid to Spain on the ratification of the treaty of Paris for the peace of the Philippines, provided he could by that means assure the Filipinos that they would ultimately be given their independence.

Washington, May 17.—The story relative to Carnegie's offer to McKinley to buy the Philippines was received with interest here. The Republicans say that after the policy of the Republican party was settled and it was determined to hold the Philippines the question of the $20,000,000 was of no consequence one way or the other, and that Mr. Carnegie by making this offer to President McKinley did not appreciate the scope of that policy. It was pointed out by the Republicans that President McKinley summed up the situation, when he said: "Mr. Carnegie does not understand."

But as matters have turned out in the Philippines it is now plain that Mr. Carnegie did understand very much better than President McKinley did as to the final outcome of the doctrine of "benevolent assimilation."

ESCORTS FOR GIRLS.

Novel Proposition of a University Student Agent For Theaters.

The other morning when several University of Chicago "co-eds" came across the campus from their quadrangle the first thing that met their amazed gaze was the following notice in large letters posted on the official bulletin board in front of Cobb hall, says the New York Times:

UNIVERSITY THEATER AGENCY.
Special notice: The university securing tickets from this agency will be provided with a pleasant and agreeable escort, carefully selected from the elite of the student body. This arrangement may be had by the payment of 15 cents commission to the agent and car fare for the young man when you buy the tickets.

The notice was signed by a young man who acts as a "student agent" for several downtown theaters.

A Coronation Gift.

The Prince and Princess of Wales are showing great interest in the various philanthropic enterprises of the kingdom; and hardly a week passes, it is said, without their visiting some hospital or charitable institution. The prince is said to be making a strong effort to induce subscriptions to the fund for London hospitals started during Queen Victoria's lifetime as the Prince of Wales fund. This is now King Edward's hospital fund, and the new Prince of Wales is its president. And his aim, according to the New York Tribune, is to secure a sufficient income of £50,000 a year for the hospitals as a kind of coronation gift to the king.

Spectator in an Open Boat of the Soufriere Eruption Describes the Spectacle.

London, May 17.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Kingston, St. Vincent, contains an excellent description by the Rev. Mr. Darrell of the eruption of La Soufriere. Mr. Darrell says:

"We rowed to within eight miles of the crater, from which a majestic body of vapor ascended. The scene was sublime beyond imagination. Steam, smoke and lava formed an awful pillar which appeared to us to be at least eight miles high. We rowed on, but an immense cloud of dark and dense volcanic material descended in our pathway, impeding our progress and warning us to stop. The mighty bank of sulphurous vapor assumed the form of a gigantic promontory; it then became a mass of revolving cloud whirling with incredible velocity, asuming beautiful flower shapes, some dark, some effulgent while others were pearly white and all were brilliantly painted by electric flashes."

"Darkness then fell upon the waters and a black rain of dust descended upon us. The thundering noises from the mountain and the earthquake shocks all produced a scene of incredible majesty and horror. The plutonic energy of the mountain increased momentarily until our boat returned to Kingston, the crew cowed and impressed with the weirdness of the scene and covered thickly with the falling gray dust."

It was such a constant ache that I had little chance to forget it. I went to Crayton's drug store and got Doan's Kidney Pills. This was not the first medicine I had used in trying to get rid of my trouble, but I can say that it is the first that ever gave me quick and lasting relief for the backache entirely disappeared."

In Appeal to the Women of This City
Which Should Not Go Unheeded.

MRS. G. G. HILDRETH.

The following expression of gratitude ought to interest every person in this city, particularly the women. It is an open letter from Mrs. G. G. Hildreth of Worcester, Mass.

"It gives me great pleasure to testify to the phenomenal success that I have had with Blood Wine. For some time I was all run down. I had a dragged out feeling. Couldn't sleep. Was losing flesh and my appetite. I felt overworked, yet didn't do hardly anything. My color was all gone, and my cheeks had a faded, sickly appearance. This I did, and they encouraged me and gave me two bottles of medicine, which I took and felt relief at once. I continued the treatment, and one by one the different symptoms disappeared. I have just reached the point where I feel entirely well, and will discontinue the medicine. I am now a stout, healthy woman (as my picture will indicate) and owe it all—my life—to 'Blood Wine.' It is the grandest thing I ever saw, and no woman (or man either) should be without it in the house. I will gladly substantiate this statement in a personal letter to any one interested."

Try "Blood Wine" today. "Blood Wine" contains no wine or opiates, —just powerful medicines, many of which are new to medical science. "Blood Wine" costs fifty cents a bottle, but you can sample it.

FLYER STRIKES
FREIGHT TRAIN

WHILE RUNNING FIFTY MILES AN HOUR TODAY.

A Dozen Passengers Injured—One Killed—Bad Wreck Due to Conflicting Orders.

Williamsport, Pa., May 17.—While dashing 50 miles an hour, the east bound Buffalo flyer on the Pennsylvania railroad consisting of six sleeping and two combination cars, overhauled and plunged into the rear of a freight train going in the same direction near Aughenbach. The engine and two cars of the flyer were overturned and the caboose and three cars of the freight demolished. Lewis Shriner of Harrisburg, engineer of the flyer, was pinned beneath his engine and killed. George Kinley of this city, conductor of the freight train was caught in the debris of the caboose and will probably die. Both legs and one arm were broken and his head and body badly cut. The accident was due to conflicting orders.

Although unconscious at the hospital here Conductor Kinley grasps his telegraphic orders in his clenched hands. The collision occurred at 5 o'clock this morning. The flyer contained 150 passengers traveling from Buffalo to Washington, Philadelphia, and points south. About a dozen persons were slightly injured.

MOURNED

For Over Forty Years as Dead, Cole Returns Home and a Sensation is the Result.

Carlisle, Ills., May 17.—In the quiet little village of Hettick, in the hills of northwestern Macoupin county, a sensation was sprung Friday when William Cole, a one time well-to-do citizen, returned home after having been absent 47 years and mourned a dead. Cole bade his wife and family goodbye and started for Tennessee in 1855 to collect $1,700 from his estate and close up his affairs in that state. From that time to this no word has been received from him. For years his wife waited but finally remarried and the children married and scattered about the country. In time the second husband died and finally the wife. The only member of his family not in Hettick is his youngest child, Mrs. Flora Ballow. Cole who is almost 80, says he remembers going to Tennessee and securing his money and then all is blank till he reached California where he has since resided.

UNCLE SAM'S BIG QUILT.

Novel Plan Inaugurated by a Bridgeton (N. J.) Church.

A letter was received recently at Jefferson City, Mo., by Governor Dockery from Mrs. L. M. Moffett, who wrote in behalf of the ladies' circle of the Central Methodist church at Bridgeton, N. J., says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Mrs. Moffett stated that the ladies were making a quilt which was to be presented to President Theodore Roosevelt. The quilt is to have forty-nine blocks, of which forty-five will represent the several states of the Union, three will be given to Uncle Sam's new colonial possessions, and one will be devoted to the District of Columbia. On the state blocks will be embroidered the state flower, with the name of the governor. It was to secure his signature and Missouri's floral emblem that the letter was sent to the governor. He complied with the request, designating golden rod as the flower. On the District of Columbia block will be embroidered President Roosevelt's name and the name of each member of his cabinet.

CROP REPORT

Condition of Wheat and Other Growing Crops in the State of Ohio and Elsewhere.

According to the United States Climate and Crop Bulletin, rain is generally needed in the Ohio Valley and Middle Atlantic states. The past week has not been unfavorable to winter wheat and generally the crop has made satisfactory progress, the least favorable reports being received from the Ohio Valley and Middle Atlantic state while a decided improvement is reported from Nebraska. The crop has made slow progress in the Ohio Valley and Middle Atlantic states, but has advanced rapidly in the lower Missouri valley, in the southern portion of which it is now heading. Lodging is threatened in portions of Missouri. The north Pacific coast region has experienced a week highly favorable to the wheat crop, which is much improved in that section. The crop continues in excellent condition in central and northern California, but is in poor condition in the southern part of the state. Early sown spring wheat has germinated well and is making vigorous growth, especially in the southern portion of the spring wheat region. Owing to continued rains much of the crop is yet to be sown, not more than half the intended acreage having been sown in North Dakota.

Some transplanting of tobacco has been done in Maryland, Virginia and Tennessee, and this work is proceeding actively in the Carolinas. Plants have made slow growth in the upper Ohio Valley and Middle Atlantic state and were damaged by the freeze of the 10th in New York. In western Kentucky plants have improved, but elsewhere in that state are backward and scarce.

The frosts of the 10th were damaging to fruit in the upper Ohio valley over the northern portion of the Middle Atlantic states, and in New England, being most destructive in New York, where peaches and apples were probably extensively killed.

Further improvements in the condition of meadows is indicated in the states of the Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys, the lake regions, and New England, but less favorable reports are received from the Ohio Valley and Middle Atlantic states.

INSPECT THE NEWARK-ZANESVILLE ROUTE.

Buckeye Lake Line to Reservoir Opens Sunday—Better Time to Columbus in Thirty Days.

Messrs. Chauncey Eldridge, Arthur E. Appleyard, C. B. Davis, Philip Saltonstall, Boston; L. E. Myers, Chicago; Michael Harrigan, superintendent of the Columbus Buckeye Lake & Newark electric railroad, and F. W. Merrick of Columbus were in Newark Friday having been on a tour of inspection of the new Buckeye Lake road. Some time was spent at Hebron looking over the company's property there. The new power house is rapidly nearing completion and the steel frame work being completed, and the brick masonry being almost complete. The roof will be put on in a few days.

All of the necessary electrical machinery is in place and under temporary cover, so that the power house can be operated within at least a week after the building is completed. The party stopped off at the Alum creek crossing to inspect the work on the new bridge and the overheads leading to them. This, when completed, will be a valuable improvement. The party was on car No. 51, of the 60 foot pattern.

The party took in the two mile run down to Buckeye Lake from Hebron to inspect the work on the pavilion and the other arrangements that are under way to make the place a popular resort.

The party reached Newark at noon and after dinner at the Warden took the afternoon train for Zanesville, accompanied by Commissioner D. H. Pigg and Postmaster J. M. Ickes.

Two routes have been suggested for an electric road between Newark and Zanesville, one running via Nashport and the other over Flint Ridge to Brownsville and then down the National road from Brownsville to Zanesville. The former is practically level and in some respects is the more feasible, but a road running to Brownsville would pass a section of the country that has a railway facilities whatever and could also reach the Flint Ridge and Muskingum county coal fields. The party, except Mr. Pigg, drove from Zanesville back to Newark over the "Flint Ridge route." It is impossible to state what conclusions, if any were reached by the capitalists, but Mr. Merrick who is counsel for a number of interurbans, stated that if the proposed route pleased them they proposed to secure a right of way and build an interurban to connect with the Buckeye Lake line which would have connect Zanesville with Cincinnati, Dayton, Columbus and other cities via electric routes.

Cars are now running regularly to and from Columbus, but the time required to make the trip from Newark to the Capital City is 2 1/2 hours. This is owing to the fact that the power plant is not finished and the company has insufficient power. A representative of the Buckeye Lake road tells the Advocate that the road will be thoroughly equipped in 30 days and by that time a new schedule will be arranged and much better time will be made between Newark and Columbus.

Sunday the cars begin to run from Newark to Buckeye Lake via Hebron regularly. The first car leaves at 8:30 in the morning.

THE PRESIDENT

Of the City Council, Wilkesbarre, Pa., Cured of Rheumatism.

Col. Wm. J. Harvey, a president of Wilkesbarre's city council, who will long be remembered for his great work for the city, was once a mere physical wreck, torn in every muscle and nerve from the frightful pains caused by rheumatism. He consulted the best physicians, went abroad, took mud baths, and almost every known treatment for the disease. One of the city officials had had a very similar experience and Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy had cured him, so he recommended this great kidney medicine to his friend, and Col. Harvey is today a well man, hale and hearty. In his own abrupt way he states his case: Dr. David Kennedy.

Dear Sir:—This is to certify that I was permanently cured of rheumatism by the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Remedy.

ATHENS' CASE

J. R. Fitzgibbon Was the Attorney for Whom Fee Collected in Columbus Was Intended.

A special dispatch from the Advocate's Columbus correspondent Friday afternoon told of the issue of a warrant for the arrest of John B. Athens, a Greek of Newark, on the charge of obtaining $30 under false pretenses. The charge was preferred by Mr. Georgopolos a Greek shoe polisher.

Attorney J. R. Fitzgibbon as attorney for Georgopolos last week filed a suit against John Spanos of this city for $1047, money borrowed by Spanos. While in Mr. Fitzgibbon's office Athens was with Georgopolos and seemed to be his confidential friend. Since then Mr. Fitzgibbon has received several telephone inquiries as to whether Athens had been over here or paid him any money as attorney's fees. Mr. Fitzgibbon had received nothing from Athens, but is of the opinion that he got the money from Georgopolos under the pretense that he was going to give it to him (Mr. Fitzgibbon).

LODGE NEWS

Modern Woodmen.

The regular weekly meeting of the local camp of Modern Woodmen of America held on Wednesday night, May 14th, was one long to be remembered by the 300 members present who took part in the initiation of a class of 22 candidates, making a total membership for Cedar Camp of 671 members and placing it almost in reach of the State Banner, valued at $150.00, to be presented to the largest camp in the State of Ohio on January 1st, 1903. The initiatory ceremonies were performed in a very satisfactory manner by the officers. They were ably assisted by the Forester team, in charge of Chief Forester E. C. Richardson and organist J. H. Cromer of Zanesville, who was present especially to take part in the ceremonies. The committee appointed to prepare the refreshments had everything in readiness at the close of the ceremonies and ice cream, cake and lemonade was served those present. The Forester team of this camp is one of the best in the state, and as an evidence of their popularity they are being invited by the surrounding camps to visit them and exemplify their work. The team will visit Ohio Camp, No. 3435 of Columbus on the night of June 3d and exemplify the work at the opening of their new hall on July 4th. The State picnic of the Modern Woodmen of America will be held at Zanesville, at Gant Park, under the auspices of Buckeye Camp and the camp at Zanesville. Two crack teams from Toledo will be present and compete for a prize, and as there is considerable rivalry between these two teams there will be a great deal of interest taken. The team and a large number of members of Cedar Camp will attend the celebration and take part in the contest. Cedar Camp has done its share towards making the excellent growth made in this state and placing it among the best Woodmen States in the jurisdiction. It also furnishes the greatest social entertainments of any of the lodges in the city. Modern Woodmen of America have a regard of being prompt in the payment of claims, without waiting to collect it from the membership. It now has over a million of dollars on hand and is in excellent condition financially.

SUICIDE

OF THE MAN WHO WAS ARRESTED FOR ARSON.

Hotel Fired by the Owner Because It Was a Losing Venture—Strangled Himself.

Altoona, Pa., May 17—The sensation caused by the arrest of John Ohnsmann on the charge of setting fire to the St. Charles hotel reached its climax last evening, when in a cell of the city lock-up the aged prisoner committed suicide. Councilman Wm. Kelly called at the police court to see the prisoner. Seeing him kneeling upon the floor he supposed Ohnsmann was praying and he waited. Receiving no response to his call, he gained admittance to the cell only to find that Ohnsmann was dead. He had tied two handkerchiefs to his bunk, thrust his head through the noose and slowly strangled himself.

Early in the morning the St. Charles hotel was discovered to be ablaze. A boarder who was aroused by the smoke gave the alarm in time to save Landlord Samuel Coleman and his family from asphyxiation. All the boarders hurried to the street in their nightgowns. The firemen, who soon got the flames under control, found traces of gasoline in the basement, where the fire started.

While the hotel was burning Ohnsmann was arrested. He was running to catch a Pennsylvania railroad train. The police charged him with setting fire to the hotel of which he was the lessee. Coleman, his tenant, had been refused license, and the investment was a losing one for Ohnsmann. The prisoner could not give a satisfactory account of his movements after reaching Altoona last night from Rochester, N. Y., where his family resides.

Mrs. Coleman says Ohnsmann's daughter recently warned her to move out of the hotel as it was likely to burn over her head. Several families residing in the neighborhood also received letters of warning from the girl.

MOST LADIES NEED A TONIC EVERY SPRING.

MRS. BARBARA McDONALD, President of the St. Louis Blue Ribbon Club, writes the following letter concerning Peruna from 2947 Dayton street, St. Louis, Mo.: "It is with feelings of gratitude for benefits derived from the use of Peruna that I desire to proclaim to human-kind my experience, hoping that it will benefit some unfortunate sufferer like myself. "Suffering for years with what appeared to be an incurable malady, and after a great expense incurred consulting physicians without any benefit, I was recommended to try Peruna. As a last expedient I purchased a bottle, and before one-half of the contents were used I felt the beneficial results. I am continuing to use same, and might say I am entirely well. My disease seemed to be catarrh of the stomach, and the nauseating sensation, and the heavy, languid, tired-out feelings with which I suffered, especially after eating, have entirely left me, and my digestive organs are in splendid condition, all of which I owe to the use of Peruna."—MRS. BARBARA McDONALD.

Miss Julia V. Teller, of 2518 Prairie street, Milwaukee, Wis., is President of the German Young Woman's Union. Her opinion of Peruna is given in the following words: "Our German Young Woman's Union has nothing but praise for Peruna. Three of our members have been most wonderfully helped. One of them had suffered for years with catarrh of the stomach, which became aggravated every time I caught a slight cold. My food did not digest properly, and life lost its best charm until I tried Peruna. It made a new woman of me. It took eight bottles to effect a complete cure, but I would not be back in the former condition for a thousand dollars. I am most grateful for being cured completely and feel better than I have done for years."—Catherine R. Bertos.

The lassitude incident to spring weather is especially trying to women. Ailments peculiar to the sex of many varieties are especially prone to aggravation. All this class of affections are fully described by the term "pelvic catarrh."

Any woman wishing to be placed on the list of Dr. Hartman's patients for free home treatment and advice should immediately send name and symptoms, duration of disease and treatment already tried. Directions for the first month's treatment will be promptly mailed free of charge. No free medicine will be supplied by the doctor, but all necessary directions will be furnished.

Read what the above ladies have to say of Peruna as a cure for these cases. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Tired Saleswomen.

Employers Should be More Considerate. Mrs. Pinkham Asks Tired Women to Write Her for Advice.

In the vast retail establishments of large cities, many women are employed as saleswomen.

Men formerly held the positions that women now hold, and while women's organization is less strong than men's, they are expected to do the same work. Their duties compel them to be on their feet from morning to night, and many of them, in a short time, contract those distressing complaints called "female diseases."

Then occur irregularities, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, indigestion, leucorrhoea, general debility, and nervous prostration.

They are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues, and hopelessness.

In such cases there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. The following letters prove this. They also prove the value of Mrs. Pinkham's advice.

"I Can Work Every Day in the Week Now."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write this letter for you to publish for the benefit of poor, suffering women. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me a great deal of good. I have taken three bottles and feel like a new woman. When I began the use of your medicine I was hardly able to be up; could not do half a day's work. I ached from head to foot, was almost crazy, had those bearing-down pains, and stomach was out of order. Now all of these troubles have left me and I can work every day in the week and not feel tired."—MRS. JENNIE FREEMAN, 109 Pennsylvania Ave., Lima, Ohio.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I have read with interest your advice to others so much that I thought I would write to you for I have been suffering for a long time. This I did some time ago.

"Now I can hardly find words to thank you for your wonderful Vegetable Compound and advice."

"I was in a terrible state, every part of my body ached, was very nervous, had hysterical spells. I think I would have become insane had it not been for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Your medicine has cured me and I cannot express my thanks."—MISS HATTIE DEGEAT, Succasunna, N.J. (March 8, 1901.)

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement.

No other person can give such helping advice to women who are sick as Mrs. Pinkham, for none have had such a great experience—her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice free—if you are sick write her—you are foolish if you don't.

Foods and Appetite.

In some good advice given in print by a physician the theory held by faddists in special foods, warranted to perform marvels of health and restoration, is exploded. "Don't," says this writer, "imagine that you can grow strong on foods that you dislike. Better fried ham and chocolate cake with a good appetite than a health cereal with milk and disgust."

One would hesitate, perhaps, to follow strictly the food ban and chocolate cake dictum to the letter, but it is undoubtedly true that at the moment many persons almost starve themselves because they have no appetite for the various so-called health foods, which alone they fancy they can eat. Above and beyond the choice of food is moderation in partaking of it and relish for what is eaten.—New York Post.

Pentecost at St. Francis de Sales.

Pentecost is properly speaking, the birthday of the church of Christ. Does the church exist independent of Christianity? What is the difference between the terms church and Christianity? Can there be more forms of Christianity than one, and if not can there be more churches than one? Can a church not founded by Christ be called a church in the proper sense of that word? Where can we find the true church? Is it true to say that it makes no difference what church a person belongs to providing he lives an honest life? Are we obliged to find the true church or may a person remain in doubt and leave the rest to the mercy of God? The above are the questions which will be the subject of the discourse at both masses, 7 and 10 a. m., in St. Francis de Sales church tomorrow. B. M. O'Boylan, rector.

Have held my position, although many younger men, whose only fault was their gray hair, have been dismissed. Thank you for your medicine.

BOER DELEGATES

Now in Session—London Mail Says the Attitude of the Leaders is for Peace.

Pretoria, May 17.—All the Boer delegates are now assembled at Vereeniging, Transvaal, where every facility has been afforded them for private sessions, the first of which was arranged for Friday. All the voting will be by ballot.

During the deliberations at Vereeniging Lord Kitchener has guaranteed immunity from attack to all commanders whose leaders are participating in the conference.

London, May 17.—The Daily Mail says it is understood that sufficient indications of the attitude of the Boer leaders at Vereeniging has transpired to justify the assertion that peace in South Africa is absolutely assured. A powerful factor in attaining this result, the paper says, has been the British generosity in the matter of farm rebuilding, for which, it believes, about £5,000,000 has been granted.

TRAINS MIXED

By the Mad Operator, Who Rushed From the Depot Brandishing a Gun.

Brazil, Ind., May 17.—Frank Orrell, operator at the Vandalia Depot yesterday became violently insane. He caused a sensation by mixing up the east and west bound passenger trains and then rushed up the main street of Knightsville brandishing a revolver and shouting that the depot had been robbed. The engineer of one freight train thought the operator was insane when he handed him an order, as it was unreadable. The engineer made quick time to this city and reported Orrell's condition. Operators were soon put to work and stopped all trains till orders could be straightened out. Orrell was taken home to Amos.

PAINE'S Celery Compound

Mrs. Mary Hickey of South Sodus, N. Y., Had Rheumatism So Bad She Could Not Walk.

Had to be Wheeled About the House in an Invalid's Chair.

The Use of the Never Disappointing Rheumatism Banisher Cured Her.

True merit, prompt and effective results, and astonishing cures have given Paine's Celery Compound a position on the highest round of the ladder of fame.

Paine's Celery Compound is today the only spring medicine asked for and bought by thoughtful and discerning people. For the treatment of serious diseases, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous disorders, and blood troubles, Paine's Celery Compound has no equal.

The credit of Paine's Celery Compound has advanced to such a high eminence that amongst the millions who use it, we find the names of millionaires, bankers, professional men, wealthy merchants, and women of note. All have it their chosen remedy for the cure of chronic diseases and for the banishment of the little ailments that often make life miserable.

Paine's Celery Compound, in the opinion of the leading druggists and physicians, has displaced nearly all the common advertised medicines of the day. This great work has been accomplished only by merit and genuine cures. Rheumatism, neuralgia, and nervous disorders take flight in springtime when Paine's Celery Compound is used for a time. Why delay the work of health building when such a life giver is within your reach? Test its efficiency this very day.

Mrs. Hickey, happy and grateful for the astonishing results derived from Paine's Celery Compound, new nerve fibre, nerve force, fresh energy, and vitality, writes us:—

"For nearly thirty years I have been an invalid, caused by that terrible disease, rheumatism. For six years I could not walk without the help of friends. All my joints were stiff, and I had to be wheeled about the house in an invalid's chair. Physicians' medicines, baths, etc., etc., were all in vain, but Paine's Celery Compound practically cured me, and I am now able to walk around and do my household work."

Quite a number of the members of the Bricklayers, Stone Masons and Plasterers' Union were in attendance to pay their last respects to their departed brother. BURNING OF 'ST. PIERRE Vivid Description of the West Indian City's Destruction.

MILES OF LAND UNDER ASHES.

W. P. Lough, Who Watched the Scene From a Steamer's Deck, Tells How Cyclone of Blazing Lava Poured Out Upon Land and Sea When Mountain Was Rent Asunder—Prisoner in Jail Only Person Who Came Out Alive.

W. P. Lough sends the following special dispatch from Dominica, B. W. I., to the New York World, describing the disaster at St. Pierre as he saw it from the deck of the steamer Korona. Mr. Lough is a member of the firm of E. F. Darrell & Co., in the Produce Exchange building, New York. He is a wealthy resident of Staten Island and went to the West Indies on business.

"I saw St. Pierre burning last Friday (May 9) from the deck of the steamer Korona. A dense pall of smoke covered the city, but when this ink cloud was raised by the wind it revealed a desolation inconceivable to one who had not witnessed it. The steamer Korona in the foreground was blazing furiously. Nearer shore were numerous vessels burned to the water's edge, some floating with their keels up. In the background what once was the city showed only bare walls. There were no roofs, no glass, no blinds in the windows, no signs of life and no landmarks.

"The wharf which that morning had been so busy with life, the lighthouse, the trees and everything perishable had been wiped out. From end to end of the city only the black stained, gaunt, fire swept walls remained. Above this ruined and desolate city the mountain belched volumes of black, sulphurous smoke down its sides. Streams of lava flowed into the sea with a hissing noise, sending up clouds of steam as they reached the water.

"The sides of the mountain and the environs of St. Pierre, which only a few hours before had been covered with a luxuriant growth of tropical foliage, showed not a vestige of verdure. Everything was burned and scorched out of existence. The countryside was covered with grayish white ashes and lava. As near as could be estimated, over fifty square miles of the island are now in this condition.

"Of the 40,000 persons in St. Pierre and its suburbs I know of only one who escaped, and he was a prisoner in a dungeon of the jail. There may have been others in some of the suburbs and nearby towns who survived, but I believe this man was the only one in the city itself who lived. He is alive now.

"After making sure that the burning steamer was the Roraima we proceeded to Fort-de-France, and I went among the survivors there and questioned them. I learned that of sixty-eight persons on board the Roraima twenty-two had been taken off by a French man-of-war and landed at Fort-de-France. The Korona took four away from Fort-de-France. They were only slightly burned. They were the first officer, the assistant purser and two negro laborers. We left six of the survivors in the hospital. The others died of their burns.

"Thompson, the assistant purser, told me that he was on deck about 7:15 o'clock on the morning of the eruption. His vessel was not discharging its cargo, as it was a public holiday, Ascension day. The volcano, he said, was smoking, and he saw flames issuing from its crater. 'The ship's steward,' he said, 'called the women passengers and children up on the deck to see the wonderful sight.'

"Great masses of fire and big streams of lava were coming from the crater. Above them an immense pall of smoke spread in every direction, blotting out the blue of the heavens and causing a darkness like late twilight. As the darkness increased I advised the passengers and the steward to take to cover, as I feared that we were in danger. Then suddenly I saw the flames burst up to a great height, and I heard a sound for which I can give no comparison. No volley of artillery, no thunder, can compare with that awful roaring sound.

"The mountain appeared to burst asunder, and from the crevices a huge ball of fire rose high into the air and swept toward the city. It traveled with wonderful speed and struck the sea with a roar, throwing up a huge wall of water high into the air. The combined fire and water came down on the sleeping with terrific force, overturning many of the vessels and heeling the Roraima until her deck ports were under.

"Thompson told me that he took refuge in his cabin. He said that the iron masts and the great funnel had been swept away like paper. The hatches, he said, were stove in, and deckboards were smashed into tinder and burned. Captain Muggah, he said, was frightfully burned and jumped overboard, but a negro laborer sprang after him and bravely went to his rescue. The negro caught the captain and swam with him to a floating hatch cover, upon which he dragged him. There on that hatch cover, with the sea boiling all around him and the fiery rain falling on every side, Captain Muggah died.

"The fall of fire, the purser told me, lasted only about five minutes, but he said for several hours stones and ashes and cinders fell. The refugees arriving at Dominica are from points distant from St. Pierre and can give little news concerning the city. Many of those who were lost were attempting to escape from the island in little boats."

Over a Boy at Hebron Who Was Taken to an Unfit Place in Columbus

Hebron, May 17.—An account of an alleged three "cornered fight" appeared in a Columbus paper on Thursday evening which grossly misrepresents the facts in the case.

The parties interested in the affair are John G. Mjner, and the uncle and guardian of Lawrence Avery and Ada M. Avery. The father and stepfather of the boy, whose mother is dead, spirited the boy away from Mr. Mjner's care and took him to Columbus, where he is kept in a shanty boat on the Scioto river, a notoriously unfit place for the boy to be kept when the surroundings are considered. Mr. Mjner intends to prosecute the Columbus parties and rescue the boy from his disreputable captors.
